

EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. MICHAEL R. TURNER

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, July 14, 2016

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, on July 6, 2016 through July 8, 2016, I was unable to vote on Roll Call votes 357 through 400. Had I been present, I would have voted as follows: Roll Call 357—No, Roll Call 358—No, Roll Call 359—No, Roll Call 360—No, Roll Call 361—No, Roll Call 362—No, Roll Call 363—No, Roll Call 364—No, Roll Call 365—No, Roll Call 366—No, Roll Call 367—No, Roll Call 368—No, Roll Call 369—No, Roll Call 370—No, Roll Call 371—Yes, Roll Call 372—Yes, Roll Call 373—No, Roll Call 374—No, Roll Call 375—Yes, Roll Call 376—Yes, Roll Call 377—No, Roll Call 378—No, Roll Call 379—Yes, Roll Call 380—Yes, Roll Call 381—Yes, Roll Call 382—Yes, Roll Call 383—Yes, Roll Call 384—Yes, Roll Call 385—Yes, Roll Call 386—Yes, Roll Call 387—Yes, Roll Call 388—Yes, Roll Call 389—Yes, Roll Call 390—Yes, Roll Call 391—Yes, Roll Call 392—Yes, Roll Call 393—No, Roll Call 394—No, Roll Call 395—Yes, Roll Call 396—Yes, Roll Call 397—No, Roll Call 398—Yes, Roll Call 399—Yes, Roll Call 400—Yes.

GUN VIOLENCE IN AMERICA: STOPPING THE BLOODSHED

HON. JOYCE BEATTY

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, July 14, 2016

Mrs. BEATTY. Mr. Speaker, I am shocked and devastated by the multiple, tragic deaths occurring across our country.

The most recent senseless deaths of Alton Sterling and Philando Castile at the hands of police and the equally senseless killing of five Dallas police officers were all completely avoidable and intolerable.

Words alone cannot describe my heartbreak—nor can words alone bring resolve.

Mr. Speaker, our resolve should be real solutions to stop the bloodshed.

Enough is enough—the American people are fed up, Congressional Democrats are fed up, the Congressional Black Caucus is fed up, and I am fed up.

Republican Leadership should immediately bring to the floor:

1. The Public Safety and Second Amendment Rights Protection Act, H.R. 1217, which would expand the existing background check system to cover all commercial firearm sales.

2. Denying Firearms and Explosives to Dangerous Terrorists Act, H.R. 1076, also known as “No Fly, No Buy,” which would allow the FBI to block gun sales to people on the terrorist watch list.

3. Background Check Completion Act, H.R. 3051, which would require that a background check be completed before any gun sale proceeds, and

4. Hate Crimes Prevention Act, H.R. 4603, which would ban the sale of firearms to those convicted of assaulting someone based on their race, religion, gender, sexual orientation, or disability.

Mr. Speaker, we continue to mourn the loss of lives in Newtown, Aurora, Charleston, Orlando, and so many others.

Last month, House Democrats, led by our CBC colleague and iconic civil rights leader Congressman JOHN LEWIS from the 5th district of Georgia, held a 26-hour sit-in on the Floor of the House of Representatives to demand House Republican Leaders hold a vote on legislation to address gun violence.

Mr. Speaker, after this sit-in, voters will not be silent.

Americans across the country are coming together and organizing.

In my district, I led a conference call with diverse leaders, activists, elected officials, religious and civic organizations, businesses and individuals in Central Ohio to discuss paving the way forward to curb gun violence and to unite our community.

Mr. Speaker, we’re not asking for a lot—we are simply asking to save lives.

Mr. Speaker, what will it take?

Our former colleague, U.S. House Representative Gabrielle Gifford, resigned due to being gun downed while trying to represent her constituents to the fullest.

In the words of Martin Luther King Jr., “We are now faced with the fact that tomorrow is today. We are confronted with the fierce urgency of now.”

Mr. Speaker, it is time you heed those words.

Our nation is in an urgent crisis, yet, we remain trapped in Congressional inaction.

HONORING SENATOR LOIS WOLK

HON. MIKE THOMPSON

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, July 14, 2016

Mr. THOMPSON of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Senator Lois Wolk upon her retirement from the California State Senate.

Senator Wolk has lived in Davis, California since 1978, and began her career in public service in 1990 when she was elected to the Davis City Council. During her service as a councilmember, Senator Wolk prioritized initiatives that improved environmental sustainability and expanded access to health services for the people of Davis, including leading the efforts to restore and preserve Putah Creek and to build Sutter Davis Hospital.

Senator Wolk was elected to serve as a Yolo County Supervisor in 1998, and while serving on the board of Supervisors she spearheaded efforts to improve children’s welfare. The culmination of those efforts was the creation of Multi-Disciplinary Interview Center for abused children, a Crisis Nursery, and a new Juvenile Hall. Given the importance of agriculture to Yolo County’s economy, Senator Wolk led a major revision of the county’s Agricultural Zoning Ordinance as a supervisor to preserve the county’s land quality for generations to come.

After her service as County Supervisor, Senator Wolk was elected to the California State Assembly for three consecutive terms, serving from 2002 until 2008. She became the first woman to chair the Assembly Water, Parks and Wildlife Committee, where she advanced legislation addressing flood protection, the crisis in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta and climate change.

Senator Wolk was elected to the California State Senate in 2008. As a senator, she has introduced and advanced legislation related to environmental protections and social equality. She also spearheaded the creation of a statewide registry to ensure more children are immunized and to increase consumer access to affordable clean energy. Most recently, Senator Wolk led the effort to pass the groundbreaking End of Life Option Act, ensuring that Californians suffering from terminal illness can choose to die on their own terms. Senator Wolk currently serves as the Majority Whip and chairs the Senate Budget Subcommittee on Resources, Environmental Protection, Energy and Transportation.

Mr. Speaker, Senator Wolk is my friend and a valued colleague, and has been an exemplary public servant for close to three decades and it is therefore fitting and proper that we honor her here today.

RECOGNIZING THE IMPORTANCE OF EXTENDING THE RARE PEDI- ATRIC DISEASE PRIORITY RE- VIEW VOUCHER PROGRAM

HON. JOSEPH CROWLEY

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, July 14, 2016

Mr. CROWLEY. Mr. Speaker, I want to take this opportunity today to urge my colleagues to not let the Rare Pediatric Disease Priority Review Voucher Program lapse. As the co-chair of the House Congressional Rare Disease Caucus, I know first-hand how successful this program has been for children and their families throughout the country and I am determined for it to continue. Unfortunately, the program expires September 30th, which could curb continued research and development in the areas of rare pediatric conditions.

One condition that very much relies on the incentives of the Rare Pediatric Disease Priority Review Voucher Program is epidermolysis bullosa (“EB”), and those suffering from the condition are in desperate need of treatments and cures. EB is a rare, debilitating, and potentially fatal connective tissue disorder that manifests through severe
